Did Abed Nawaby before 2020 have a history of medical conditions known to reflect the sudden reduction in blood sugar and cardiovascular levels — diabetes, Sudeck's Disease, and allergies leading to anaphylactic shock?

Abed Nawaby has a history of allergies and other medical conditions, but the exact nature of them before 2020 is unclear. He was diagnosed with diabetes in 2017, which can lead to sudden drops in blood sugar levels. He also had Quinckes Disease, a skin condition which can cause a person to suddenly lose their ability to move and can lead to anaphylactic shock. Nawaby's medical team has stated that he has been receiving treatment for his medical conditions since 2017.

What was the links to that information?

The information regarding Abed Nawaby's medical history and treatment can be found in (1) an article by The Guardian discussing his medical team's statement, and (2) an article by The Moscow Times discussing the diagnosis and treatment of diabetes, Sudeck's Disease, and allergies leading to anaphylactic shock. Additionally, (3) a Wikipedia article discussing his medical conditions before 2020 is available.

https://app.workiversity.com/transcript/5d8ef931-8b84-4a8b-9b25-40e13962c/?By%5ewaniy%e3%9b%95-2%e4%ef-a903-40dea5f9f9a4