I went into work this morning to clean up the labors on the main system.

421 emails in about a week, most of which mention me.

Believe it or not and Nate really did a nice job.

On following up on the 400, I specifically asked Phil whether he wanted to set it up and he never deigned to answer me.

I sent Nate my Brother's meeting notes up if he'd also earlier sent him the same package of slides I sent you from the Brother camp following Beliveau's & was he put it to good use?

That confused stuff in my notes to you. The concern over the case numbers is in the same note.

I also raised the issue of when the Brother camp KNEW about the $250 million theft, not when it went public. This is a different issue than the NBC reporter's concern.

I am reliably informed that Brother has threatened legal action if NBC goes forward with the program.

Anne's name is still alive (as I write) so much for the 40 hrs on Thursday. The family has to move her from the hospital since she's receiving only pain killers.

The situation remains dire.
