Will not reply

Did not go to Brazil?

Interesting to note recent linking of Browder with Benghazi and then this inquiry...the old "why now?" question.

As for the chronology, Heritage filed complaints about the theft of the firms as early as February 2008. [Is early? They knew about it in July 2007?]

Public statements, however, would not be in my memory bank. When Browder et al went public is a topic you'd need news.Lexis to accomplish. I only started following this matter closely after his death, which is when Browder made all this stuff public.
