Will tell Kelly.

Did not go to David's.

Interesting to note recent linking of Browder with Navalny and then this inquiry...the old "why now" question.

Does Kelly know you will be out?

As for the chronology, Hermitage filed complaints about the theft of the firms as early as February 2008. [LK: early? They knew about it in July 2007!]

Public statements, however, would not be in my memory bank. When Browder et al went public is a topic you'd need nexus Lexus to accomplish. I only started following this matter closely after his death, which is when Browder made all this stuff public

Yeah I know...this may still be around on your return. I will be out Monday by the way.
