

Investigator for particularly important cases of tax crimes investigation department (Name of preliminary investigation agency or inquiry, Investigative Committee of the Russian Interior Ministry Justice Major I.P. Novikov in office premise № 420
rank or title, name and initials of the investigator (inquirer)
in accordance with Art. 189 and 190 (191) of RF CCP interrogated on the criminal case №
248065
(which exactly)

as a witness:

1. Surname, first name, patronymic: Magnitsky Sergey Leonidovich
 2. Date of birth: 08.04.1972
 3. Place of birth: Odessa, Ukraine
 4. Place of residence and (or) registration: Moscow, Pokrovka str., house 20/1, app. 43
- Tel:
5. Citizenship: RF
 6. Education: higher, 'economist'
 7. Marital status, family: married, two children - 2001, 1992.
 8. Work place: auditor in CJSC 'Firestone Duncan'.
- Phone: -----
9. Military Status: bound to service
(draft registered)

First page of Magnitsky testimony. #8 lists him as auditor at Firestone Duncan.

Here is Browder in his April 2015 sworn deposition before U.S. federal court, where lying can get you a perjury charge.

The lawyer asked if Magnitsky had a law degree in Russia.

"I'm not aware that he did," Browder said.

Did he know if Magnitsky "went to law school?"